

New Book, the “Ultimate Baby Bargain Guide”, for Expectant Parents Released

Joshua and Shauna McDonald, parents of two boys, released a new book titled the “Ultimate Baby Bargain Guide” (available at MommyDaddySavers.com) to help new and expectant parents discover the financial secrets that smart, savvy, frugal moms and dads are using every day to find the best baby bargains on clothes, furniture, and toys.

Georgetown, KY, USA 8th May 2009 – The “Ultimate Baby Bargain Guide” is now available at <http://www.MommyDaddySavers.com>. The guide is designed especially for first-time parents, but can help all new and expectant parents formulate, plan, and prepare for the financial aspects of having a baby. In fact, the authors themselves have personally saved thousands of dollars over what the average parent spends and compiled everything in this quick, easy-to-read Guide.

“We’ve left no stone unturned,” says Joshua McDonald, author. “We only spent $300 total on baby supplies during the first year including the crib, nursery décor, changing table, dresser, baby bath items, breast pump, bottles, toys and clothes. We outline in this guide exactly how we did it.”

This guide carefully explores the critical financial issues of having a baby with tips and instructions from when you start trying to get pregnant all the way through baby’s first year. It says that the expenses can be overwhelming and if not well planned can lead to serious problems including marital tensions. Parents who fail to plan should be prepared to cope with a huge amount of debt.

The “Ultimate Baby Bargain Guide” is divided into eleven information rich chapters that reveal everything from preparing a budget to finding baby bargains both online and offline. This includes how to get no or low-cost baby clothes, maternity bargains, information on baby clubs, and links to websites that took over 2 years to find. The guide even includes helpful information about maternity insurance and what to do if you find out your pregnant and your insurance plan does not cover pregnancy.

The response to this guide has been overwhelming. Tammy Brown from Versailles, KY says, “My kids are already five and three, so I thought I knew most of the tricks, but I was pleasantly surprised. There are definitely some new ones for me here! I’ll be referring to this guide for baby number three. I’m a stay-at-home mom so any new bargain information really catches my eye. What I like most about this guide are the website recommendations and the recipes for homemade art materials.”

About the Authors:

Joshua & Shauna McDonald are the owners of the website <http://www.mommydaddysavers.com>. They help many expectant and new parents to better financially prepare for having a baby. They offer the "Ultimate Baby Bargain Guide", which is the compilation of absolute best ways to get bargains on baby clothes, furniture, toys, and more. To learn more about the Ultimate Baby Bargain Guide you can just log on to <http://www.mommydaddysavers.com>.

Contact:

Joshua & Shauna McDonald, Owners
PO Box 1321, Georgetown, KY 40324, USA
Phone: 859-327-4492
Fax: 502-867-1012
josh@mommydaddysavers.com
<http://www.MommyDaddySavers.com>

###